Use of Personal Data

GE Transportation's ModalPass application allows drayage company drivers to check-in and check-out to an intermodal terminal in advance, move in and out of sites faster and with better information, provides drivers with paperless gate receipts and facilitates communication from the terminals directly to drivers. Per customer agreement, request or instruction, personal data such as driver license number, email address and name are required to help facilitate the performance of these services, including validating the identity of drivers and providing technical support to them.

By registering to use ModalPass, you agree to GE's privacy policy, which can be found at http://www.ge.com/privacy
