Large volumes of traffic are handled in Ontario, much of it at MacMillan Yard — CN's largest rail classification facility and our only hump yard in Eastern Canada. Mac Yard also has railcar and locomotive repair shops. Containers are handled at CN's largest intermodal terminal in Brampton. The Toronto area, which is home to over 2,400 CN railroaders, also boasts a distribution facility for automobiles, one for forest products, two for metals, a logistics park, and two CargoFlo® bulk handling facilities. In addition, CN has a forest products distribution centre in Brockville and one for autos in Windsor.

Network Investments

CN remains committed to the Milton Logistics Hub, a critically needed infrastructure project that will strengthen Ontario's and Canada's supply chains and improve access to global markets. The project was subject to Canada's most extensive environmental review process. Once complete, it will be among the most stringently regulated facilities of its kind.

Over the past decade, CN has invested more than $4.0 billion to build and maintain a safe and efficient network in Ontario and to support our supply chain partners. Expansion projects included the transformation of our intermodal operations. Maintenance projects focused on the replacement of rail and ties, plus upkeep of crossings, bridges, culverts, signals, and other track infrastructure.
